LCCS Students in Musical Theatre Voice Recital

Students of voice instructor Deborah Dennard gave a Musical Theatre Voice Recital on January 15 at Lake Country Christian School. The students not only performed excerpts from well-known musicals but also dressed in costume.

LCCS seventh and eighth grade students who performed included Sarah Harris singing "Buttons and Bows," Maddie Madill performing "Rose of Washington Square," "Kids" performed by Suni Petty, "Singin' in the Rain" sung by Anna Purselley, and a duet of Maddie Madill and Suni Petty on "My Favorite Things." Ninth graders who performed were Haley Gannaway and Bailey Banning on "Anything You Can Do," "Wild About Harry" performed by A'lia Thomas, "Happy Working Song" sung by Brittany Elkins, "That's Amore" by Nicole Mauck, and "How Do You Know" performed by Kiley Stephenson. Margaret Vogel, a ninth grader at Bedford J.H. and a student of Ms. Dennard's, performed "Far From the Home I Love."

Voice lessons, along with private lessons in all areas of music and dance, are offered at Lake Country Christian School through the School of the Arts. This unique program allows students to take private lessons with qualified private teachers before, during, and after school as their schedule allows.
